The Rolling of the Drum

The days pass silently like the night
Or loud like the rolling of the drum
Our past seems so far away
Our future yet to come

And who knows
who knows
What we'll be ten years from
Today.

Jean says she wants to be a
psychiatrist
To get in peoples'
minds
Tom wants to be an
archeologist
To see what we left behind

And I
I just live from day
To day
Taking tests trying to make
The Grade
And oh Lord have mercy
I've got to turn in my
term paper
Today

The times are hard
But we are young
Doing things we should have done
long ago

Yet we look around
Catch the moves
and sounds
Of loves
and dreams
From the radio

Friday night dances
Saturday night dates
Working hard
after school
Staying out
too late

Lecturing instructors trying to teach us ways
Of new life
ideas
terms
And yet
The days pass silently like the night
Or loud like the rolling of the drum

The 1979-80 school year saw a great expansion in the amount of facilities on the Fulton Campus.

A new $1.5 million Technical Education Building opened for use in the fall. It houses the technical departments of Forestry, Distribution and Marketing, Agri-Business, Law Enforcement, and Child Development.

Also in the fall, bids were let for the design of a $2 million dormitory and for a $1.01 million Health Occupations Building. An outdoor recreation project containing several tennis courts, a softball field and a comfort station were completed in time for spring sports.

On the Tupelo Campus a $1.5 million Technical Education Building was also completed.

And yet,
The days pass silently like the night,
Or loud, like the rolling of the drum.

Enrollment Up Five Percent

IJC has registered 2,447 students for the fall semester. This is approximately a five percent increase compared to last year's enrollment. Most of this increase was in the number of Tupelo day and Fulton fulltime students.

In breaking down the figures for the Tupelo campus, Registrar Carl Comer said there were 894 technical and academic night students and 487 vocational and technical day students. The number of students on the Fulton campus totaled 1,066.

IJC Provides Personalized Attention

One reason for the success Itawamba Junior College has achieved is the institution's attitude toward its students. Each receives the personalized attention he or she needs. Counselors and faculty advisors take an interest in helping students plan the programs of study for which they are most suited.

New Programs of Study, Courses Offered

Joe Namie
Forestry

Itawamba Junior College offered several new programs of study and new courses in the fall.

A new Developmental Studies Program was initiated on the Fulton campus. It was designed to provide instruction in mathematics, English, and reading for students who are not academically prepared for the college curriculum. Federal funds totaling $68,000 were provided for the program. The institution has the option of continuing the program with the use of federal funds for up to four years.

Also on the Fulton campus were new courses in Agribusiness Technology, Art, Chemistry, Health, Physical Education and Recreation, Law Enforcement, Music, and Speech.

New programs on the Tupelo campus included: Supervision and Management Technology, Radiologic Technology, Electrical Appliance and Refrigerator Repair, Truck Mechanics, Automotive Parts Person, Tool and Die Making, and Diesel Mechanics.

In addition, the two campuses offered approximately 36 non-credit courses through the Continuing Education Program. These courses ranged from Cake Decoration to Income Tax Preparation, and from Wilderness Backpacking to Parent Effectiveness Training.

Mirror — Preserving

Gail Camp and Karen Thompson, Co-Editors

Do you remember the times of your life? The Mirror staff produces a collection of memories in the yearbook that can be reflected upon throughout the lifetimes of IJC students.

The staff is composed of a few dedicated students who find that deadlines always seem to come a little too soon. Somehow, though, they manage to meet their deadlines even if it does mean the loss of sleep and recreation time after school hours and on weekends.

The Chieftain has made great strides this year in becoming more fully geared to meet the interests and needs of students. This year's paper is the first to be created solely by the students. Also, this year has marked the first in which the paper has been laid out on the Fulton campus, thanks to new typesetting and processing machinery purchased by the school this year. The Chieftain staff is made up of 10 full-time students who devote a large amount of their time and effort producing a school paper that IJC students can be proud of.

SPORTS

Mascot Joins Cheering Squad

A tradition was renewed this year by IJC — the role of mascot. Elected was Lisa Lucius, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Lucius, of Pontotoc. Lisa is a 1978 graduate of North Pontotoc High School. As mascot, she wears an Indian maid's costume and aids the cheerleaders in building spirit.

The cheerleaders not only boosted spirit at football games, but also served as hostesses for such activities as the Athletic Banquet, Parents Night, and the supervisors' meeting. They also served refreshments during registration and were in charge of the printed program for the beauty revue. In July they attended camp on the Gulf Coast where they won various awards including the spirit stick and a superior ribbon.

After Winning Garland Bowl

IJC In Nation's Top Eleven

On December 1 the Indians swept across the badlands of Texas to raid some Tyler Apaches at a sight known as the Garland Bowl. The Indians downed the redskinned foe 9-7 in the showdown to clinch the victory in what has been the Indians' only bowl appearance.

The IJC parlayed good defense with the kicking by Doug Nichols to capture the win. Nichols, who came into the season as a lineman who could kick, finished the season as a kicker who could play the line. He booted field goals of 43, 23, and 24 yards to win the title of the game's most Valuable Player.

The Indian defense forced the Apaches into eight turn overs. IJC finished the season as the 11th ranked team in the nation by virtue of its 8-3 record.

When the season opened most folks knew the Indians would be good . . . they just didn't know how good.

After a dubious start, (IJC lost its opener to Gulf Coast) the Indians streaked to seven consecutive wins. These included an 8-7 win over the then number two team in the nation, Northwest, and a 17-10 victory over arch-rival Northeast.

IJC also picked up wins over Mississippi Delta, East Central, East Mississippi, Pearl River, Holmes, and Coahoma. The Indians finished North Half competition with a perfect 6-0 mark which clinched for them the top berth in the state playoffs.

Gulf Coast came back to Fulton in the playoff opener and again played the devil's advocate, knocking off the favored Indians, 7-0. It was the second loss in a row for IJC, having dropped its last regular season game to Co-Lin.

The Indians received a bid to play in the Garland Bowl on December 1, where they knocked off Tyler, 9-7 to close out a memorable 1979 season.

Indians Advance to State Play-offs

The Mississippi Junior College coaches selected several IJC players for the All State First Team: (top left) Doug Nichols, (top right) Jimmy Taylor, Keith Glover, and Jimmy Pittman. Glover was also selected Most Valuable Lineman for the North Division.

Honorable mention went to Mike Gafford, Walter Zinn, Rickey Walker, David Carter, Ed Elzie, Buddy Collins, Dirrah Trimble, and Tony Mears.

COACHES include: Paul Johnson, Mike Eaton, head coach, and Butch Gaddy. They were chosen coaches of the year for the Mississippi Junior Colleges.

MANAGERS include: Robert Black, Wayne Pruitt, Mark Dixon, and Scott Caples.

DOGS BITE INDIANS

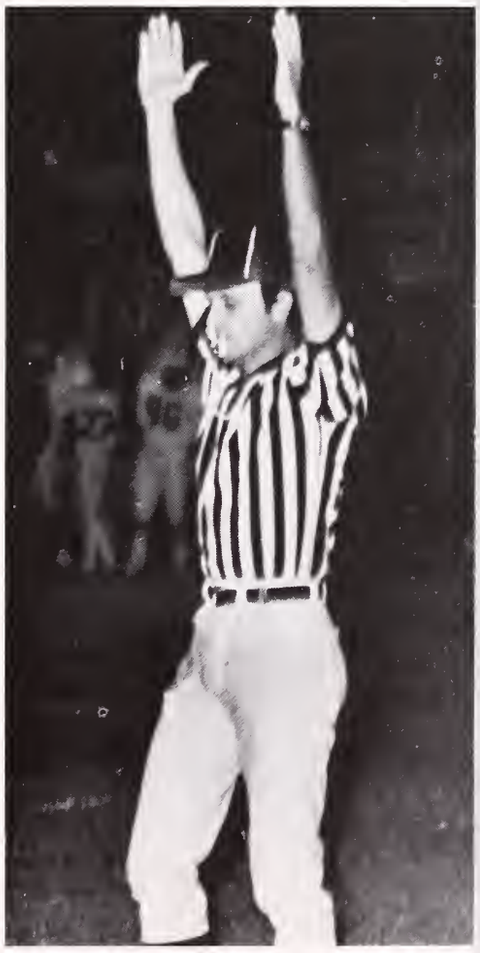
The Indians opened the 1979-80 football season on the proverbial "wrong foot" loosing to the Gulf Coast Bulldogs 7-9. The only Indian score came in the fourth quarter with a touchdown pass from quarterback Dixon to wide receiver Trimble. The extra point was added by Nichols.

WARRING TROJANS FALL

IJC recorded its first win of the season over Mississippi Delta Junior College 25-7. Delta scored first after a fumble at IJC's 18. After an IJC field goal, the Indians scored again on a Dixon to Trimble bomb. After a see-saw beginning during the second half, IJC scored on a two-yard run, a safety, and finally an 80-yard interception.

WARRIORS LOSE BATTLE

In their second game of the season, the Tribesmen defeated East Central in a glittering offensive showing played in Fulton. The Indians displayed a wide variety of offensive fire-power as they passed, ran, and kicked their way to a 29-16 win. Jimmy Taylor supplied much of the excitement in the contest with several leaping catches from quarterback John Dixon.



CAGED LIONS PURR

An 80-yard toss from Dixon to Taylor for the Indians' first score and a two-yard run by Randle produced a 14-0 lead for IJC at the half. After a single score in the third quarter by the Lions, IJC once again scored with ease as Pittman raced in from the 14-yard line and Carter scored from the seven-yard line. Final score 27-7.

RIVER RATS DROWN

After a zig-zagged first half between IJC and Pearl River, the Indians held a 14-9 lead. IJC finally broke loose in the fourth quarter to add ten points and out-last Pearl River 24-17.

BARKING DOGS QUIETED

The win was a come-from-behind affair, but it was as sweet as any during the year. IJC defeated Holmes 22-16 for their fifth win of the season. The winning touchdown came in blazing style with Allen Cooperwood recovering a fumble in the endzone. Jimmy Taylor set up the first Indian touchdown with a spectacular catch and David Carter took it in for the score. A defensive-pass-interference call helped set the winning touchdown in the closing seconds of the game.

TIGERS STRIPED AT HOMECOMING

Doug Nichols, who usually wins ball games with field goals, was instrumental in beating the Northeast Tigers, with an interception that came just 19 seconds before the clock ran out. The 17-10 homecoming victory over archrival Northeast was made possible by touchdown runs by Jimmy Pittman and David Carter. Nichols kicked a 42-yard three-pointer to complete IJC's score of 17-10.

TRIBESMEN SCALP RANGERS

The Indians went on the war path during their eighth game and scalped the Northwest Rangers, the second-ranking junior college team in the nation. The game was a hard fought defensive struggle, as the 8-7 score indicated. It looked as if the Rangers would take a narrow win when IJC forced a fumble with just 3:51 left on the clock. David Carter then scored the six points that tied up the game and Dennis Pate brought in a two-point conversion for the win. The game was typical of those last-second wins that had been played all season.

COAHOMA SHUT OUT

It was the last conference game, and the Indians finished in blazing style as they blasted the Coahoma Tigers 41-0. The win did more than allow IJC to win the North State Championship, as coach Mike Eaton played many of next year's people. Mark Towensen scored the first touchdown and Dennis Pate brought the crowd to its feet on the next score as he took a short pass from Calvin Aldrige and raced 40 yards into the end zone. Defensive man, Ed Elzie intercepted a Tiger pass in the third quarter and raced in for six from 17 yards out to give IJC a 35-0 lead. Chuch McBrayer got the last points with a run up the middle.

WOLVES MAUL INDIANS

It was a long drive down to Wesson for the last regular game of the season and an even longer drive back. Copiah-Lincoln handed the Tribesman their second loss with a 28-7 score. The game was not without excitement, however, as David Carter ran a kick-off all the way back for six points in the first quarter. Jimmy Pittman added the only other IJC touchdown of the night with a hard run up the middle.

Despite Disappointing Season

Indianettes Lay Groundwork for Year Ahead

Basketball teams don't just happen; they are built, and, despite the Indianettes disappointing record, the squad has made some definite strides in becoming a good team. The four starters and first year coach Max Munn worked on establishing the groundwork for a successful program. IJC's line-up included sophomores Mildred Pulliam, Janice Wallace, and Hollie Whitt and freshmen Yolanda Foster and Angie Patterson. Terry Swindle also saw plenty of action.

The Indianettes started off the 1979-80 campaign in fine form knocking off Phillips County Arkansas and Northwest Alabama before falling to Jackson State. After picking up a win over Martin in the IJC Classic, they traveled to Northeast for their fourth win of the year. The Indianettes then fell to East Mississippi after which they beat Northwest Alabama, Holmes, and Meridian. They then lost to Jackson State, which rounded out the first semester schedule. At that time the Indianettes were 7-3 overall and 3-1 in the conference.

For IJC Indianettes, the second semester was disastrous. They picked up a win over Martin on January 5, then dropped the next 10 games in a row but won the final game over Delta to end the season with a dismal 10-13 record for the year.

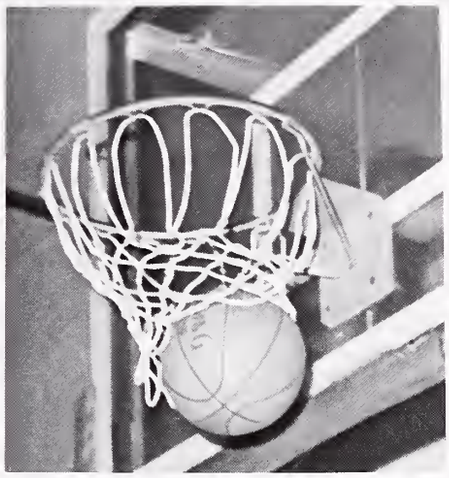
What will you remember about IJC basketball after you leave?



HOLLIE WHITT "Getting to know the rivals we had in high school and learning to make friends with them."

YOLANDA FOSTER "The girls have good sportsmanship compared to other teams. Playing with girls we played against in high school."

How do you get yourself up for a game?

MILDRED PULLIAM "I sit down and keep my mind on on the game."

TERRY SWINDLE "I center everything that day around the game."

What was your most exciting game? Why?

HOLLIE WHITT "Holmes. Everyone on the team played well. We were fired up."

JANICE WALLACE "Cohoma. We played good as a team."

Do you think basketball has helped you in your academic studies?

TERRY SWINDLE "Yes. I have to make time for my studies."

YOLANDA FOSTER "Some. You can't play ball and not study."

What do you think of in the final seconds of a game?

MILDRED PULLIAM "My thoughts could go either way."

JANICE WALLACE "When we are winning—try not to make mistakes. If we are behind—play hard to catch up and win."

Everyone knew that the men's basketball team would be good this year . . . They just didn't know how good.

IJC returned four starters and two others who saw quite a bit of action on last year's squad. Shelton Thomas, Wayne Booker, Marty Coleman, Herman Bell, Willie Coleman, and Kevin Moore returned this year to give the Indians a good nucleus for the 1979-80 team. Freshman Kelvin Henderson filled the fifth starting spot.

The Indians got off to a rather dubious start, dropping their opener at home to Phillips County Arkansas. However, IJC won the next three games, stopping Northwest Alabama, Jackson State, and Wallace State before falling to Martin in the final game of the IJC Classic. The indians rebounded from that loss to win the next seven games, downing Northeast, East Mississippi, Northwest Alabama, Holmes, and Meridian. IJC lost the last game of the first semester at the hands of Jackson State in the road game giving the Tribe an 8-3 overall record while finishing the first half of the season with a perfect 4-0 conference mark.

IJC spent most of the spring semester on the road playing only four of 12 games in Fulton. After starting off the new year on the right foot with a win over Martin, IJC dropped its first conference tilt of the year at the hands of Northwest. After the loss, the Indians went on the warpath with successive wins over Coahoma, Phillips County, Delta, Northeast, East Mississippi, Holmes, Meridian, and Northwest before falling in a home game to Coahoma shortly before presstime, giving IJC a 18-5 overall mark while ending up with a 12-2 conference mark which is good enough for a berth in the state playoffs and a possible regional tournament bid.

After Exceeding IJC's Expectations

Indians Move on to State Playoffs

Indians Win North Half, Fall In Championship

The Men's Basketball Team includes (1st row, l. to r.) Freddy Calmes, Steve Stewart, Willie Coleman, Shane Montgomery, Kevin Moore, Mike Faulkner, (2nd row) Coach Wayne Newsom, Kelvin Henderson, Rush Quinn, Herman Bell, David Jones, Marty Coleman, David Wheeler, (3rd row) Donnie Harris, Harold Standfield, James Jennings, Wayne Booker, and Shelton Thomas.

The IJC men's basketball team picked up where they left off in the regular season stopping Meridian, Coahoma, and Northwest to claim their second North Half Championship in as many years. The State Championship playoffs came up next with the Indians downing Co-Lin to earn a spot in the championship game against their season-long rival, the Northwest Rangers, who stopped Gulf Coast. The Indians had won two of the three meetings with the Rangers but stopping the taller squad for the third time proved too difficult a task as IJC fell, 76-53, the greatest loss of the year for the Fulton squad. Both IJC and Northwest gained berths in the region VI playoffs which took place in March.

What will you remember about IJC basketball after you leave?

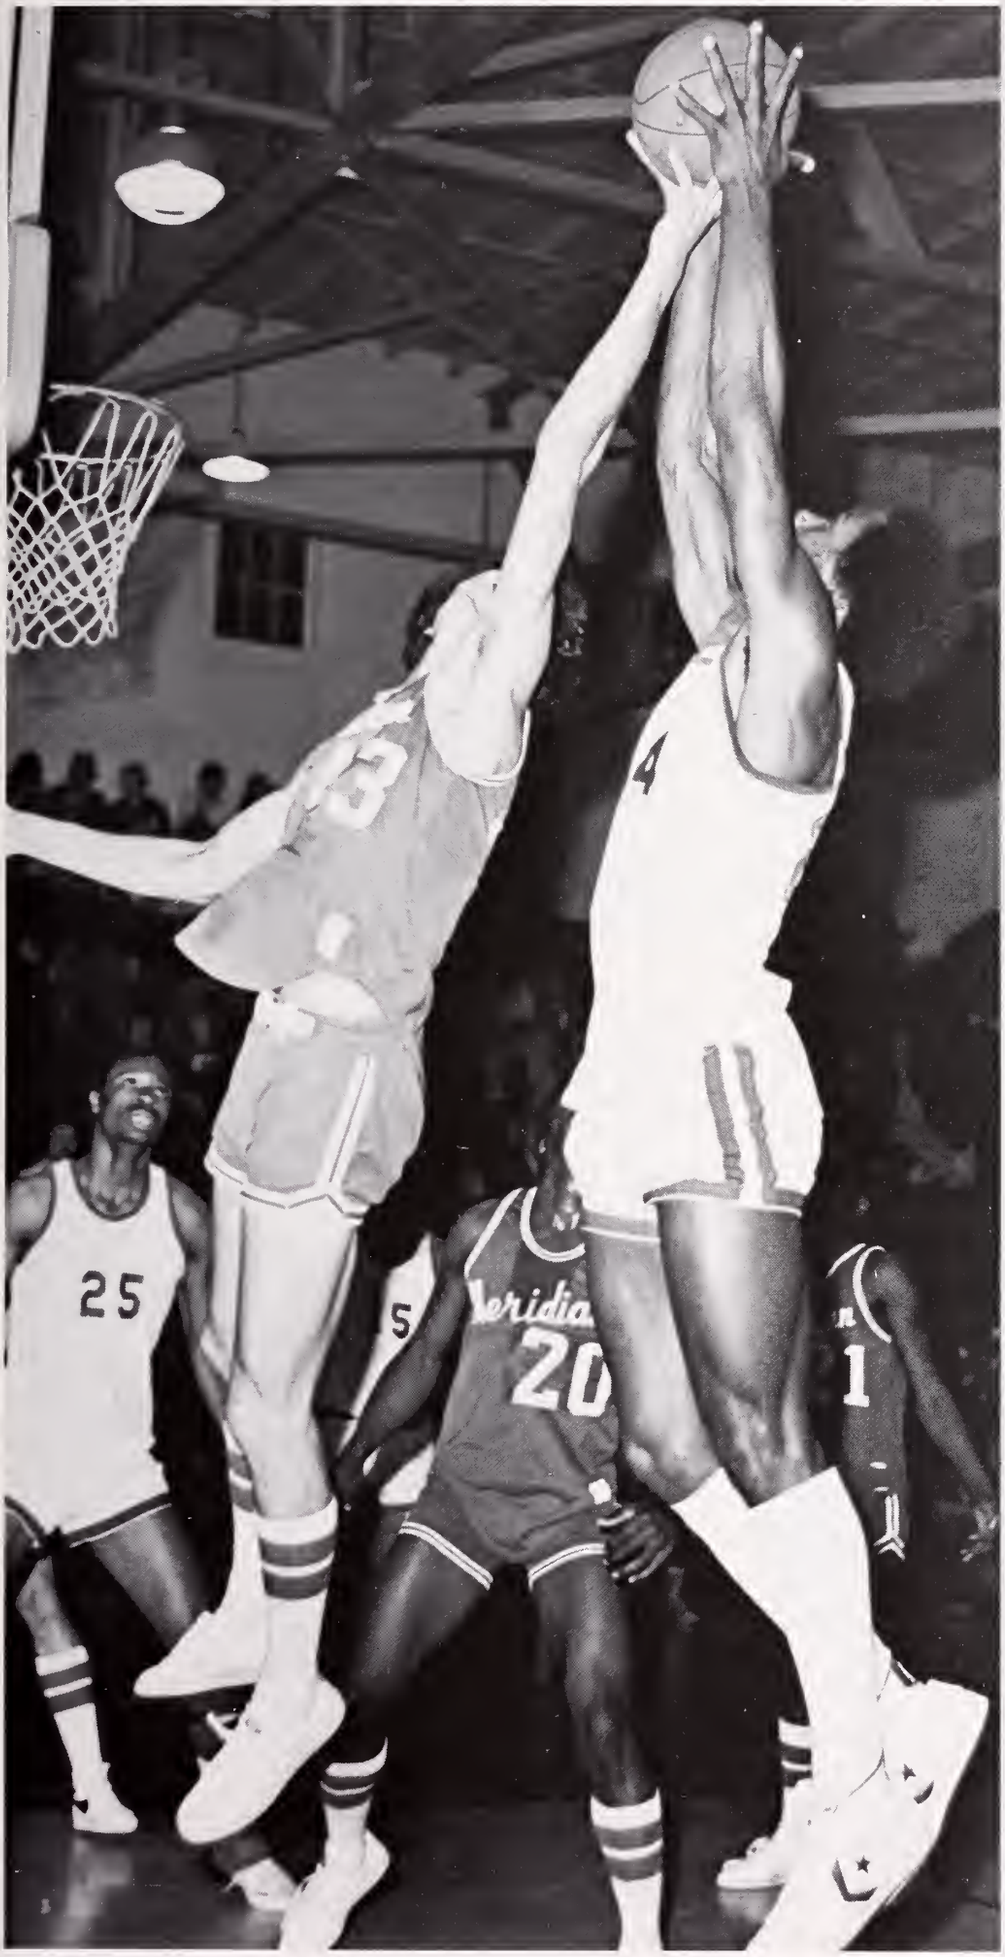
SHELTON THOMAS "What a good season we had and how good Coach Newsom was."

KELVIN HENDERSON "Just the team all together—we worked well as a team."

How do you get yourself up for a game?

KEVIN MOORE "Talk about it before the game when we are all together."

WAYNE BOOKER "Concentrate on the team we are to play."

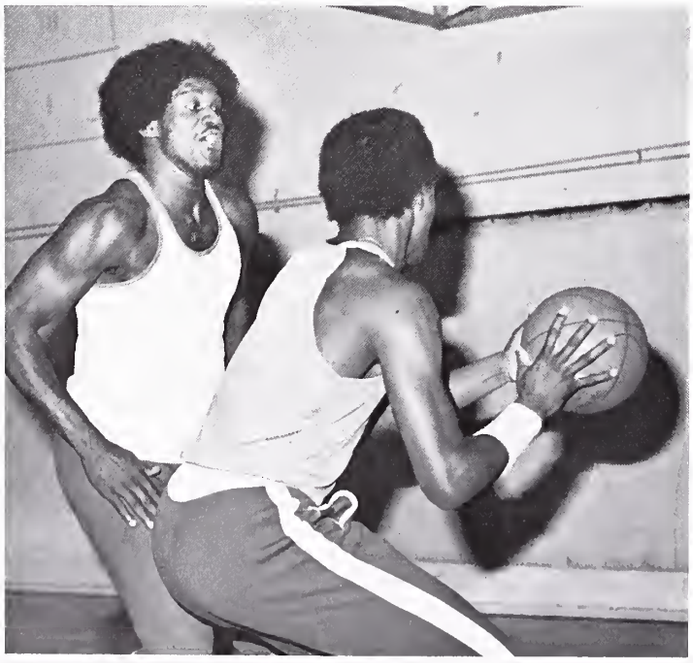


What was your most exciting game? Why?

SHELTON THOMAS "East Mississippi. We came from behind and defeated them. Good team we played."

STEVE STEWART "First college game I played."

Do you think basketball has helped you in your academic studies?

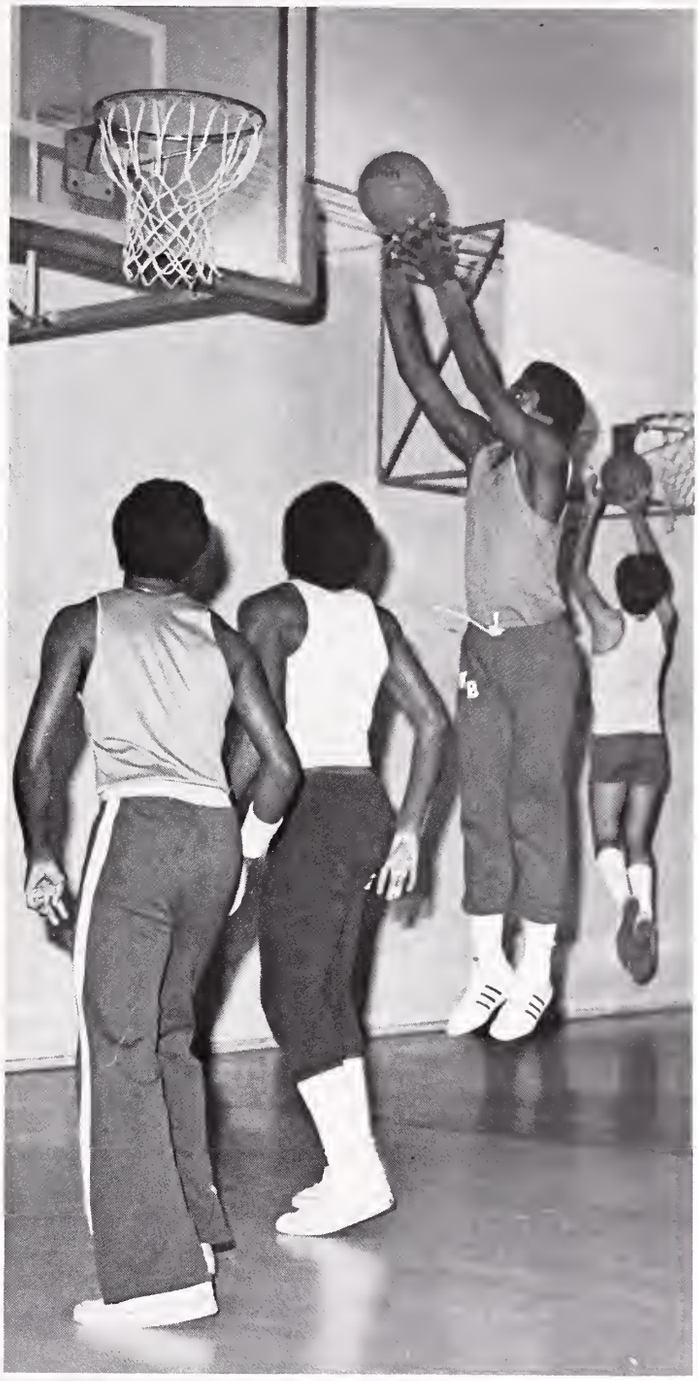


KELVIN HENDERSON "Yes. In order to stay on the team you have to study."

KEVIN MOORE "Yes. You have to go along with different things."

What do you think of in the final seconds of a game?

WAYNE BOOKER "Try to get as close a shot as we can."



STEVE STEWART "Have confidence that we are going to win."

The Itawamba Junior

The All-American Band is one of IJC's most impressive features. Referred to as "The Band," it is known for its excellence both on the field and in the concert hall. The marching band is busy during the fall semester dazzling audiences at most of the football games and performing in many parades. The various concert bands are enjoyed during the spring semester as they perform their more difficult works.

This year John McDonough joined Wade Irvin as assistant director of bands under the direction of Bryan Herring. This addition to the staff is one way of keeping up the tradition of excellence that has made "The Band" the pride of IJC.

A Time of Zany Fun

Indian Week is a time of spring activities that brings IJC students together for a lot of fun and laughs. Among the activities offered were a mile-long run, a tug of war, a rock lift, a cookout, and the annual spring dance. Indian Week was a success because almost everyone got involved and seemed to enjoy themselves.

CLOSING

IJC Fash

the

Seventies

on file

The '70's can be recorded as a decade of immense change and prosperity for Itawamba Junior College. In 1970 President John S. Crubaugh led a different student through the halls of IJC.

Fashionwise, mini-skirts, culottes, and empire dresses were the female attire, and later, in October 1970, pants suits or coordinated pants and tunics were permitted. Included in the fashionable coed's wardrobe were fishnet and windowpane stockings, falls and hairpieces, and wide or square-toed shoes with buckles.

Males wore shirts and pants (no jeans), two-toned shoes and hairstyles—a cross between a crew-cut and a Beatles haircut. Afros were in style for both black males and females.

Styles have changed considerably since that time. In 1975, skirts began to lower and by 1979, mid-calf length skirts, jeans and sweatshirts, and spike-heeled shoes were in style.

In 1972 Dr. W. O. Benjamin became president, and a short time later IJC began cutting the strings from the Agricultural High School.

Since 1974 over 80 new courses have been added on the Fulton Campus and 50 to 60 new courses have been added on the Tupelo Campus. The Reserve Officer training Program (ROTC) was added in 1975, the Continuing Education Program in community service was implemented in 1976, and Shilombish, IJC's literary magazine, was established in the spring of 1977.

Several new technical programs have also been added at IJC since the early 70's. Included are Child Development, Forest Technology, Fashion-Merchandising, Agri-Business Technology, Building Construction, Civil Engineering, Industrial Maintenance, Law Enforcement, Associate Degree Nursing and Radiologic Technology. Developmental courses in reading, English and math and Independent Study (Directed-Study) was also implemented.

Evening college at IJC has expanded over 900% from 10 courses in 1973 to over 90 courses in 1979. The College Level Exam Program (CLEP) and Proficiency Exam Program (PEP) have been added. The instrumental Music Program has grown from approximately 35 courses in 1974 to 120 in 1979.

From 1974 to the present over 30 new full-time faculty members have been employed at Fulton and 20 on the Tupelo Campus. Over 65 new part-time faculty members were also employed.

President Carter

In addition to changes at IJC, the '70's can be remembered for a million and one other things.

In books and authors—The Thorn Birds, Future Shock, War and Remembrance Aunt Erma's Cope Book, Harold Robbins, Irvin Shaw, Alex Haley, Sidney Sheldon.

In movements—Women's Liberation, Gay Liberation, Sexual Liberation

In movies—Star Wars, Rich Man Poor Man, Grease, Roots, China Syndrome, The Exorcist, The Wiz, The Godfather, Love Story, Jaws.

In TV—Charlie's Angels, Real People, 20/20, 60 Minutes, Mary Hartman, Soap, Three's Company, The Young and Restless.

In sports figures—Arthur Ashe, Muhammad Ali, O. J. Simpson, Nadia Comaneci, Billy Jean King, Mark Spitz, Hank Aaron, Larry Bird, Archie Manning.

In fads and fashions—earth shoes, stack-heeled shoes, hot tubs, customized vans, jogging, disco fever, CB radios, streakers, T-shirts.

In government, politics and controversies——Bakke decision, Proposition 13, legalization of abortion, recession, energy crisis, Iranian crisis, President Carter (Jimmy who?), the Bi-Centennial, the CIA, Cambodia, Watergate and the resignation of Nixon, Three Mile Island, inflation.

Firsts—Test Tube Baby (Louise Brown), Hurricanes with men's names, King Tut exhibition.

Students Make

Editor's Note: The following is how IJC students have described the 1980's as compiled from a poll of 70 students.

While the war rages on between the United States and the Middle Eastern nation of Iran, scientists have finally perfected the grain distillation of an effective substitute for gasoline. Thus the U.S. no longer depends upon the oil rich Mid-East countries.

As a religious revival takes place here in America, Russia is bringing more and more Mid-East countries under Communist control.

Meanwhile here in the U.S., there has been a major or semi-major disaster at an undisclosed nuclear generating plant. However, dependence upon this "clean" source of power continues to rise dramatically.

As sexual freedom has progressed beyond the conception of earlier generations, so have the use of illegal drugs and the number of divorces in the United States. Of some concern is the number of states that have legalized the use of marijuana——about 26 so far.

According to the number of decisions rendered so far from the U.S. president, the strongest in many years, the '80's will not be so totally removed from the '70's, '60's or the '50's.

Citizens in Mississippi will not see the election of a woman governor during the 1980's, but they will see all of the dry counties usher in legal liquor.

Elsewhere, the hope of cloning outstanding men and women is not yet a reality. In addition, doctors are not overly optimistic that test-tube babies will survive. In fact, a baby's chances are 50-50.

Here at IJC, talk has it that within this decade, we'll not have to travel to Oxford or Starkville to get that coveted sheepskin, for Itawamba Jr. will become a senior institution. The rapid growth at IJC and the increase in the school's prestige led to this change.

While the skirt lengths continue to go up and down like a yo-yo, the average students of IJC continue to be much like those of the '70's. However, they do exhibit more optimism and a better appearance

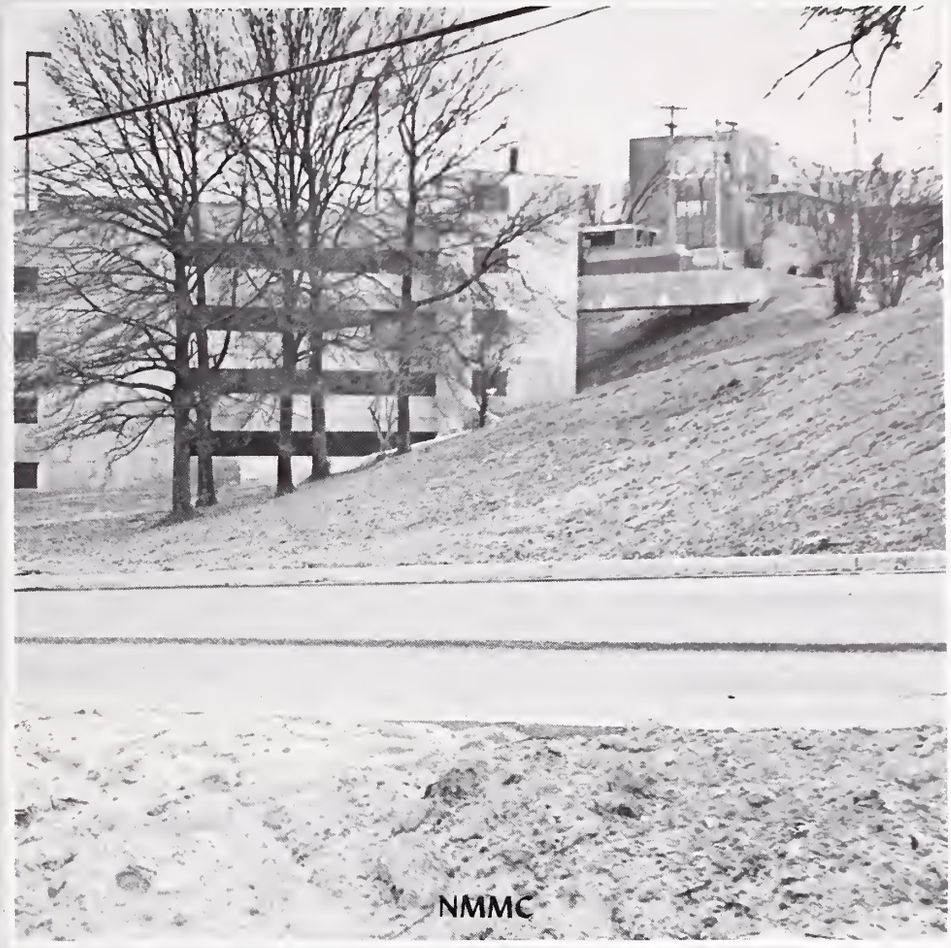
Mississippi Progress 1979

Waterway Construction Continues

Disaster was prominent on the statewide scene in 1979. A plane crash took the life of ex-Lt. Governor Charles Sullivan. Record-high floods left thousands of residents of the Columbus and Jackson areas homeless. Hurricane Frederic beat a path through the Mississippi Gulf Coast, showing he was just as fierce as his female counterparts. He ripped his way through Engels Shipyard in Pascagoula, taking with him many jobs. Others were left jobless in Tupelo with the closing of Pennsylvania Tire and Rubber Co.

If 1979 was a year for disaster, it was also a year for progress. The Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway continued to grow as parts of it neared completion, leaving the stomping grounds of many local people unrecognizable. Highway 78 was resurfaced between Tupelo and Fulton, frustrating IJC students who were late for classes after being held up by flagmen. Dedication of the Elvis Presley Chapel was held, along with the dedication of Hwy. 78 from Tupelo to Memphis to the entertainer's memory. Changes were also made at North Mississippi Medical Center, with many more additions expected in the very near future.

Progress was also the key word at IJC as the Technical Education Building and an outdoor recreation project were completed. Additions were a radiologic technology program, an advancement opportunities program, and child care services. On the drawing board were a men's dorm and a health occupations building.



NMMC

In state politics, William Winter was elected governor, proving that it was not "This time Gil," but "This time Wil." Gov. Cliff Finch decided he was not ready to end his political career. Instead, he announced his candidacy for the U.S. presidency. More blacks were elected than in any time in history, with the addition of 17 blacks to the state legislature.

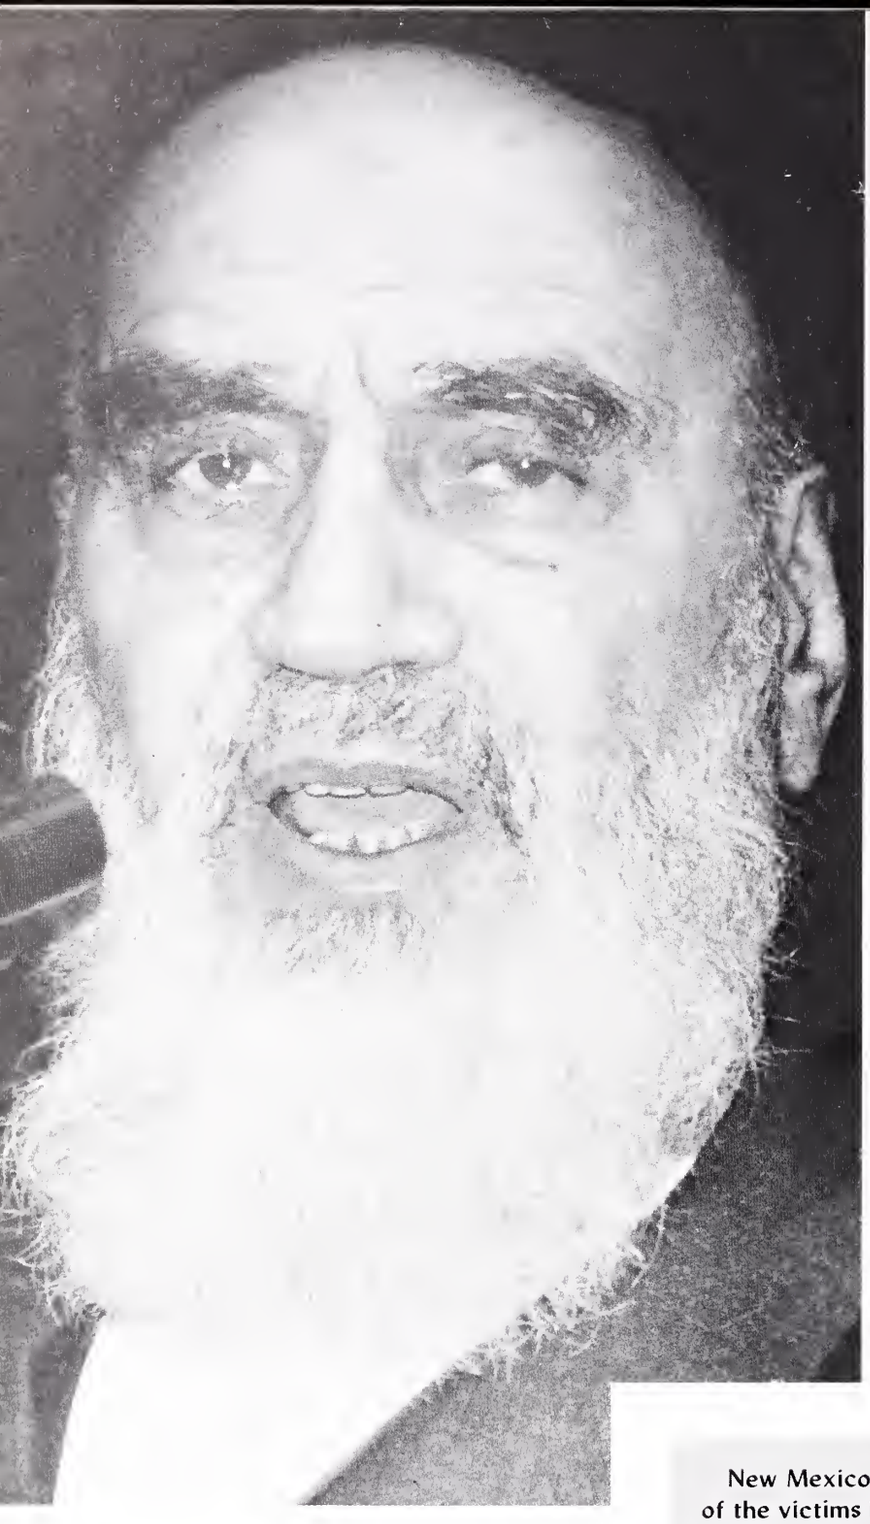
OUT



1979 was a year of advanced technology and engineering. Below is the orbiter Enterprise riding piggy-back on a 747 jet. Also, Americans learned to conserve by turning down their thermostats. Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, upon returning to Iran after 15 years of exile, led outraged Iranian students in taking over the American Embassy in Tehran. They took about 50 Americans hostage, hoping to exchange them for the deposed shah, who had fled to the U.S.

New Mexico State Prison was the scene of inmate rioting early in 1980. One of the victims is shown being carried out past National Guard troops below.

1979: A Year of Extremes:

Pessimism abounded in the nation in 1979. The year proved to be full of tragedies, disappointments, and social unrest. Everyone's favorite hero, John Wayne, succumbed to cancer after a long tiring battle with the disease. George Meany died after retiring as president of the AFL-CIO. A crash of a DC-10 at the Chicago O'Hare killed 275 passengers, resulting in a thorough investigation of all DC-10's. Diversion from the problems was virtually impossible, as 11 people were trampled to death at a Who concert in Cincinatti, Ohio.

No place, it seemed, was safe from disaster, but that great American humor came through once again upon return of Sky Lab to earth. No true American can resist a chance to make a buck, so they proceeded to manufacture Sky Lab t-shirts, buttons, records and believe it or not, Sky Lab repellent. Humor or not, Americans considered it no laughing matter when anti-shah Iranians took 50 Americans hostage at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran. The Americans were enraged at this action not only against their fellow men, but their own countrymen. This, more than any happening in recent years, brought back a once dormant feeling of patriotism among Americans.

Nuclear energy had its ups and downs, with a definite down being the Three-Mile Island incident.

Inflation was a major source of concern in the year. Gas exceeded $1.00 a gallon, causing a desperate search for an alternative source of energy, like gasahol. The prime interest rate hit 15% making it almost impossible for the middle income family to borrow money. Gold fever broke loose, causing it to go for about $900 per ounce. The Chrysler Corporation faced bankruptcy. A rise in the minimum wage did little to appease the U.S. worker.

Internationally, the United States opened diplomatic relations with China and the vice-president of China visited the U.S. America, angry about Russian invasion of Afghanistan, restricted grain sales with Russia, causing anxiety among U.S. farmers. The cold war disrupted SALT II negotiations between the U.S. and Russia.

A matter of great interest was the dispute of women's rights. People continued to disagree over the ERA. Women would possibly have to face the draft, a fact which caused some distress among anti-ERA people. Anne Meyers paved the way for women in sports as she became the first woman to sign with a professional basketball team.

The Rolling of the Drum

The days pass silently like the night
Or loud like the rolling of the drum
Our past seems so far away
Our future yet to come

And who knows
who knows
What we'll be ten years from
Today.

Jean says she wants to be a
psychiatrist
To get in peoples'
minds
Tom wants to be an
archeologist
To see what we left behind

And I
I just live from day
To day
Taking tests trying to make
The Grade
And oh Lord have mercy
I've got to turn in my
term paper
Today

The times are hard
But we are young
Doing things we should have done
long ago

Yet we look around
Catch the moves
and sounds
Of loves
and dreams
From the radio

Friday night dances
Saturday night dates
Working hard
after school
Staying out
too late

Lecturing instructors trying to teach
us ways
Of new life
ideas
terms
And yet
The days pass silently like the night
Or loud like the rolling of the drum
